THE MISSION

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The North Carolina Justice Academy provides a wide range of courses to meet the needs of law enforcement agencies and a variety of delivery options including courses on the Salemburg and Edneyville campuses and through courses at community colleges. The Academy also provides course offerings via web-based learning.

Decreasing state appropriations continue to provide many challenges to the Academy's budget and its staff. The Academy has been fortunate in the last couple of years to find other ways to provide additional training through federal grants and partnerships with local law enforcement agencies. Distance learning through Blackboard and other web-based learning portals continues to grow. Many local agencies are also experiencing budget cutbacks and have tightened their budgets for training and travel. The number of students attending training has declined. In the next few years, the Academy anticipates continued tight budgetary challenges. Also with the consolidation of some positions, numbers of some course offerings have been reduced. The Academy has overcome past challenges and looks forward to offering high-quality services with the limited resources that are provided.

The Academy has been fortunate to have many long term and career long staff members. However, many of these employees are beginning to retire, leaving gaps of experience. Replacing the instructional experience and knowledge of these employees will be a difficult task. There is no way that all of their knowledge will be replaced. The Academy will continue to search for and hire quality staff.

The Academy's Facebook page and webpage provide updated information regarding campus courses and information. The Academy's Facebook page is a source for upcoming courses, student activities, law enforcement news, campus happenings and other pertinent information. Both the pages continue to increase followers and views each month. The Facebook page also provides photographs of classroom and practical exercises to share with the public the services provided by the Academy.

Next year will mark the 40th anniversary of the creation of the NC Justice Academy. With this legacy of criminal justice service provided at the Academy, law enforcement officers have received the very best training available. The Academy is excited about continuing its mission to provide quality service to the law enforcement community. Quality instruction is a hallmark of what the Academy continues to provide.

Mark J. Strickland, Director

THE TRAINING HIGHLIGHTS

COMMISSION/IN-SERVICE CENTER

Gary Dudley led the Commission/In-service Center as training manager during the past year. Dudley served on the executive board of the North Carolina Law Enforcement Training Officers Association (NCLETOA) as a Central District Rep.

Bill Dubois continued with the responsibility for mandated in-service development. Dubois coordinated and delivered the In-service Instructor Updates. He participated in and coordinated activities related to the Juvenile Minority Sensitivity Training (JMST) Committee. Dubois was presented with NCJA Training Employee of the year.

Jennifer Fisher diligently maintains the Basic Law Enforcement Training curriculum and has assisted in developing in-service courses. Mrs. Fisher is an executive committee member of the North Carolina Coalition Against Human Trafficking and has made countless presentations at various venues across the state to discuss anti-human trafficking efforts in North Carolina. With her anti-trafficking efforts, Mrs. Fisher has been interviewed by local radio stations, TV shows, and newspapers. Mrs. Fisher also attained her Challenge Course Instructor certification as well as attended the West Point Leadership course.

Tim Fuss, responsible for detention officer training, was selected to serve as a Regional Field Coordinator for the Southern Region for the National Institute of Corrections and delivered instruction in courses developed by them. In 2012-2013, the North Carolina Justice Academy was recognized for its partnership with the FBI Terrorist Screening Center to incorporate their material regarding the center into the BLET, DOCC, and TCC curriculums. In addition, a partnership with the US Marshals allowed for three Judicial and Court Officer Security Threat Symposiums coordinated by Fuss to be held in each of the three districts in North Carolina.

Susan Gillis coordinated the Sheriffs' Standards Telecommunicator Certification for the Academy and maintains the curriculum for the state, as well as overseeing the development of in-service training for telecommunicators for the state of North Carolina. In June 2013, the Academy purchased a 911 Reality Training Simulator that Gillis uses to conduct practical training exercises as part of the Sheriffs' Standards Basic Telecommunicator Course. She coordinated and taught additional training for telecommunicators including Officer-Involved Shootings, Radio Demeanor and Broadcast Techniques, Human Trafficking Awareness for Telecommunicators, and Telecommunicator Supervisor Training.

Kristi Jernigan and Alice Butler continued developing courses for the Academy's Online Learn Center including Leadership and Mentoring for Detention Officers, Awareness of Issues Surrounding Returning Military for law enforcement officers and detention officers, JMST: Don't Press Send, Officer Involved Shootings, Responding to Individuals with Mental Illness, Domestic Violence: The Children are Watching, and Law Enforcement Intelligence Update for law enforcement and telecommunicators. Jernigan coordinated the Criminal Justice Standards Certification Workshop. Jernigan assisted Tami Warren with the planning and preparation of the Peace Officers Memorial Day ceremony. Jernigan assisted with the lesson plan reviews for the yearly in-service training program. Butler maintained and updated the Academy's website and Facebook pages. Butler also led the 2012 NC State Employees Combined Campaign for the Academy which raised a total of $8,244 with activities including a "Run Like You Are Guilty" 5K, raffles, and cake sales.

Alice Butler and Wayne Ayers record final times of the runners in the 5K as they crossed the finish line.

Leila Humphries handles the responsibility of the General Instructor Training courses. Leila continued to coordinate and teach General Instructor Training. She also conducted the Instructor Orientation courses that are required in order to teach and evaluate in General Instructor Training. This past year also saw the beginning of the revision process for the curriculum of General Instructor Training.

INVESTIGATIONS CENTER

Michael Glenn had the fortune to continue delivering and developing training and curricula in crime scene and forensic sciences, as well as develop and deliver new information on the benefits and uses of alternate/forensic light source technologies in criminal investigative applications. Included in the development was the delivery of training curricula specifically addressing how to document recent soft tissue injuries utilizing near ultra-violet light, which was previously unknown to several of the students attending courses. This avenue opens the possibility of garnering evidence previously missed as well as corroborating and/or disproving the victims' statements. Glenn began delivering the basic latent fingerprint classification and comparison course and enjoyed exploring that material with the attending students. In addition, Glenn served this year as a sitting board member to the NC Homicide Investigator's Association, which has further aided his development and knowledge base in this arena outside of his career experience.

Students are provided with a great deal of hands-on experiences and exercises during Michael Glenn's Crime Scene Investigation Course.

Scott Hartley has continued multiple offerings of his course Interview and Interrogation in the past year. This is the one of the Academy's most requested courses, and Hartley worked diligently to reduce the backlog of officers waiting to enroll in the course. As the backlog is reduced, Hartley will return to offers of his advanced investigative courses which have also found overwhelming success and acceptance in the field.

Catherine Johnson's position is funded by a grant from the Governor's Crime Commission (GCC) on investigating sex crimes. Johnson has presented at four conferences and taught many classes this year. Many of Johnson's students have stated on their evaluations they will return and review worked cases to see if they have either missed something or perhaps let a bias influence their work. Other students have stated after attending this training they will look at cases differently and be more thorough.

Catherine Johnson oversees students in group project during class.

Doug Robinson instructs Identification of Fraudulent Documents.

Scott Hartley provides students with an introduction to Interview and Interrogation

Doug Robinson continued to deliver Recognizing Insurance Fraud in collaboration with members of the NC Insurance Crime Information Exchange. Student interest in that class remains high with a delivery planned with the Forsyth County Sheriff's Office on April 8 & 9, 2014. Additional deliveries across the state are currently being discussed. Robinson attended the Energetic Materials Research and Testing Center located at New Mexico Tech in the spring of 2013 and was trained in their Prevention of and Response to Suicide Bombing Incidents. Robinson continues to work closely with that group to bring additional training to North Carolina and use this training to enhance the multiple anti-terrorism trainings offered by him.

Ross Robinson, whose position is funded by the Governor's Crime Commission, has continued work in the area of Child Maltreatment and Evidence Collection. His hard work will allow the NCJA to host "Child First Interviewing" which is a nationally recognized 5-day forensic interviewing model for law enforcement officers, social workers, and medical workers. It has required almost two years of planning to make this happen.

Russell Strickland started with the Academy in April of 2013 and hit the ground running. Suicide Investigations and Fundamentals of the Investigative Process are offered and have been very successful. Coordination of Child Death and Advanced Child Death Investigation is ongoing. Strickland attended the International Association of Homicide Investigators Conference in Orlando which provided valuable information on current trends and methods in the field of death investigation. The Investigation Center has found an adjunct instructor to offer a Basic Narcotics Investigation course that will be offered for the first time in late September of 2013. Suicide Investigations and Fundamentals of the Investigative Process are currently in the revision phase, which will be followed by the revision of the Death Investigations course.

LAW ENFORCEMENT LEADERSHIP CENTER

The Academy's Law Enforcement Leadership Center continued operation under the leadership of Bob Garbett.

Donnie Parks rolled out a completely new Community Policing course entitled Community Oriented Policing: Concepts, Programs and Strategies. This course replaced the former Introduction to Community Oriented Policing. The center also delivered this course for the Wake Forest University Police Department this summer as well as in the general academy environment and it has been well received. The Leadership Center also coordinated several conferences to include the NC Association of Chiefs of Police Winter Conference in Cherokee, NC and the Gangs Across the Carolinas Conference in Greensboro, NC. The Leadership Center also partnered with Fayetteville Police Department and the American Military University to put on a Social Media Investigations course in Greensboro, NC.

Michael Kudrick instructed courses both in Salemburg and Edneyville in First Line Supervision and Leadership Development for Law Enforcement Managers. Additionally, Kudrick taught Police Media Relations in the Management Development Program and will teach this course again in Edneyville for Donnie Parks as part of his Executive Development Program. He delivered First Line and Leadership for the Wilmington Police Department and the Brunswick County Sheriff's Department, respectively, at their facilities. Kudrick is scheduled to renew a partnership with the North Carolina State Highway Patrol to deliver First Line to their new sergeant's class in fall 2013. Lastly, Kudrick is developing a class/course entitled Video Issues in Law Enforcement which will be presented at the North Carolina Chiefs of Police Association conference in January 2014.

Josh Phillips revised the Management Development Program (MDP) curriculum. The core of the MDP is now based on the Five Practices of Effective Leaders for the book "The Leadership Challenge." Also during the past year, a fitness challenge called the Endurance Challenge was implemented. This includes the Mt. Pisgah climb, a five mile run/walk, and a 10-mile run/walk. Those who complete all three challenges receive an award.

Hank Snyder coordinated offerings for School Resource Officers and DARE Officers. Snyder coordinated the annual NC Association of School Resource Officer Conference in July 2012. Snyder has announced that he will be retiring in July 2013.

Lorraine Snyder coordinated the Spanish for Law Enforcement offerings. Snyder was a guest speaker at several conferences during the past year including the Southeastern Association of Agencies on Aging Annual Conference. Snyder coordinated the NC Law Enforcement Women's Annual Conference and was presented the NCLEWA President's Award for outstanding dedication and service to NCLEWA. She coordinated and spoke at the Conference of District Attorney's on Elder Abuse: A Multi-Disciplinary Approach to Justice Conference.

Losada leads a discussion in the Advanced Field Training Officer.

Tony Losada joined the Academy staff in the Law Enforcement Leadership Center. Losada assumed the responsibility for coordinating the Field Training Officer programs.

Kevin West delivered training primarily to School Resource Officers and Rapid Deployment Instructors. Advanced SRO training consisted of a new 40-hour web blended Advanced SRO-Leadership Roles course and Solo Active Shooter Response Training developed for SRO's but applicable for all law enforcement officers. West served as an Ex-Officio member of the NC Association of School Resource Officers (NCASRO) and coordinated their 2013 conference. West coordinated and managed the partnership with the GCC trainers who deliver topic specific education on School Threat and Vulnerability Analysis, Crime Prevention Specialists, and Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design.

TACTICAL/TRAFFIC CENTER

Stacy Holloman provided leadership and management for the Tactical/Traffic Center during the past year. Holloman, also, coordinated and taught various course offerings in his areas of expertise. He is a member of the NC School Directors' Advisory Committee.

John Combs continued to coordinate SC/AT Instructor and Physical Fitness Instructor courses for the Academy. Combs worked on the POPAT validation project most of this year. Incumbent officer testing has been completed (185 tested). Officers were surveyed, and statistical data has been used to determine the pass/fail times. Combs started the impact analysis testing recruit classes and hope to have completed and ready for implementation by July 2014. Combs completed developing a block of in-service training for 2014 that will be mandatory for all NC officers: Officer Safety, the First Five Minutes. He also updated the BLET SC/AT lesson and video. Combs just completed a year-long graduate certificate program at UNC on Community Preparedness & Disaster Management.

Chad Thompson continued to instruct firearms classes during the last year. In addition to teaching all of the firearms classes at the Academy, Thompson devoted a large portion of his time to achieving a personal goal of getting as highly ranked as he could in the world of practical pistol shooting. As a result of that goal, Thompson is now ranked #2 in the USA in the United States Practical Shooting Associations Limited Pistol Class. He also won the pistol match at the IALEFI Annual Training Conference this year in Mobile AL, besting the field of over 200 fellow Law Enforcement Firearms Instructors. Thompson continues to raise the bar for the NCJA Specialized Firearms Instructor.

Floyd Yoder assumed the role of coordinating and teaching SWAT I, SWAT II, Officer Safety Readiness Training (OSRT), Tactical Leadership, and Response to Robbery (web-based) upon the departure of Roger Miller. In March, the Academy hosted the annual North Carolina Tactical Officers Association (NCTOA) SWAT competitions which consisted of various task related events. The annual SWAT In-service was conducted in June in partnership with the NCTOA. Both training events were successful and helped promote individual and team training as well as fellowship among operators.

The SWAT Operator course incorporates scenario based training in activities.

Dan Worley revised the Specialized Driver Instructor Training course manual and is currently operating under pilot authority by the Criminal Justice Education and Training Standards Commission. The old course was approximately 47 hours with limited time to work on driver skills. The revision extends the time on the track so the instructors can improve their personal driving skills ensuring a better-rounded Driver Instructor graduate. The new course is approximately 90 hours. Worley revised all Speed Measuring Instrument manuals, including the RADAR, Time-Distance, and LIDAR Instructor/Operator manuals to include new legal information from a 2011 case decided by the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals. The updated case law concerned uncorroborated visual speed estimates, and includes instructional language on how to properly perform these estimates per the expectations of the Court in order to establish reasonable suspicion/probable cause for the stop.

Kris Merithew is the primary instructor for Advanced Traffic Crash Investigation, Traffic Crash Reconstruction, Pedestrian Crash Reconstruction and Motorcycle Crash Investigation courses at both the Academy and also for the NC State Highway Patrol, spending 6 weeks of the year at the SHP Academy in Raleigh, NC. Merithew coordinated the delivery of advanced level crash investigation courses at both NCJA campuses and at Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department's training academy. These courses included Human Factors for the Reconstructionist, IPTM Reconstruction Update, Crash Data Recorders Update, and Occupant Kinematics training. Participation in the National Lifesaver's Conference, a nationwide gathering of highway safety stakeholders, the Tennessee Highway Patrol Conference, and the Governor's Highway Safety Program's Highway Safety Symposium advanced the NC Justice Academy's reputation as a nationally recognized training facility. Much of this has been accomplished though Merithew's ability to secure and allocate federal grant funding through the NC Governor's Highway Safety Program.

During the past year, Terry Miller assisted with the SMI Instructor Programs and the Specialized Driver Instructor programs. In April, Miller along with Merithew, attended the National Lifesaver's Conference in Denver, Colorado. In May they attended the Tennessee Highway Patrol Traffic Safety Symposium in Nashville, Tennessee.

Miller has taught extra classes at the North Carolina Highway Patrol Training center to assist the NCSHP with getting troopers educated in crash investigation and reconstruction so they can replace troopers who are retiring. Miller updated the lesson plans for Introduction to Traffic Crash Investigations and At-Scene Traffic Crash investigation, and also Traffic Law Refresher, and At-Scene Math Refresher.

OPERATIONS & SUPPORT

INSTRUCTIONAL SUPPORT SERVICES

Anthony Aycock, the manager for the Instructional Support Services, worked on many projects for the Academy. Anthony Aycock, ISS manager, was accepted into the North Carolina Certified Public Manager Program.

Marla Norville, Media Technician for the West Campus worked diligently in the planning and implementation of classroom upgrades. Norville also provided graphic services for staff and outside agencies as requested.

Shelia Honeycutt, Registrar for the East Campus, and Monique Flynn, Registrar for the West Campus, have worked diligently to ensure the facility needs of staff, outside agencies, and students are met. Flynn has worked extremely hard to maximize the utilization of facilities and to maintain the high level of service to all.

Shelia Honeycutt, the Registrar for the East Campus in Salemburg works to make sure students get registered for the courses they need and that instructors have the appropriate accommodations for their courses.

LEARNING RESOURCE CENTER

Erin Barta, the Library Supervisor, along with Kitty Peak, the Audio-visual Technician, had another busy year in the Learning Resource Center. Barta supported staff and students providing resources and articles to assist with the courses. Many mornings, Barta highlights an article and encourages staff to review it during coffee breaks. As part of a Governor's Highway Safety Program grant, Barta acquired seven new laptops and tablet computers for student and instructor use. These computers are equipped with crime mapping and accident reconstruction programs, as well as other productivity software. Peak, if not in the Media Center, can be found around campus and has provided technical support with classroom computers and audio-visual equipment. Peak updated NCJA classrooms with Blu-Ray players, Ladibug document cameras, and portable dry-erase boards.

The growing selection of popular movies on DVD available to students and staff has remained a popular item in the Library. This service provides entertainment to students who are on campus for an extended period of time. There are also Wii games available for check out and use in the student center.

Elaine Beatty provided support in the evening hours for students. She assists students with their needs when they are completing homework and projects.

The library provides assistance finding articles and helping students with their research for the courses that they are taking. The library has computers available for student use.

VIDEO PRODUCTION UNIT

Valery Coffey supervises the video staff for the Academy. David Jensen and John Teegarden, who joined the video staff replacing Brad Ellis, comprise the rest of the staff for the Video Production Unit. Jensen left the staff in the spring of 2013. Coffey and Teegarden produced excellent videos of the 2013 SWAT Competition which was held in March and Peace Officers Memorial Day ceremony held in May. They also began a months-long project to update or re-shoot five BLET training films. The video unit put many production hours into training films and other video projects totaling over 72 hours of screen time. The video unit filmed many events for the Academy including the 2013 Peace Officers Memorial Day ceremony. The video unit also assisted other agencies with filming and audio-visual needs such as the North Carolina Association of School Resource Officers (NCASRO) Conference and the North Carolina State Highway Patrol. BLET sections were revised and updated.

GRAPHIC DESIGN AND PRINT SHOP

Barbara Yow, Graphic Artist/Illustrator, completed approximately 23,907 jobs for NCJA Instructors and outside agencies. These jobs included signs, posters, brochures, bookmarks, PowerPoint slides, book covers, and photograph exhibits. Yow also assists with photography during annual training events such as the SWAT Competitions, Telecommunicators' Training Conference, class graduations, NC Peace Officers Memorial Day, and any special occasion or event as requested. Yow played a big role in the 2012 State Employees Combined Campaign, supporting events with graphic design and photography.

Johnnie Parker was promoted to Printing Unit Supervisor in the fall of 2012. Thomas Tiller joined the Academy staff as the Printing Equipment Operator. During the year the print shop turned out over 6.5 million impressions while completing 902 jobs in the past year for the Academy staff and other criminal justice agencies. Two high-speed color copiers were installed in the print shop, replacing a pair of older models. These copiers print twice as many pages per minute and have other new features, such as online stapling and hole-punch. Johnnie Parker and Thomas Tiller have worked hard to maximize the new machines' value.

Thomas Tiller and Johnnie Parker work hard to keep the print shop producing quality products and course books for our instructors.

RESEARCH UNIT

Charles Rambeau, Criminal Justice Specialist, prepares and maintains reports for course testing and evaluations. Rambeau provides quarterly reports from the Academy Services Survey. Rambeau assists in preparing budget reports and budget revisions to be used by Don Stacy, Deputy Director of Operations. Rambeau has his General Instructor Certification and teaches Measuring Training Results and Developing Test Questions. He developed a Criminal Intelligence and Analysis course. Rambeau continues his success working with the Governor's Crime Commission and writing grant proposals for different centers at the Academy.

Tami Warren, Criminal Justice Specialist is the Accreditation Manager for the Academy. Many hours of work are put into preparation for the Academy's second reaccreditation on-site which will be in January 2014. Warren is the Secretary for the North Carolina Law Enforcement Accreditation Network (NCLEAN) the North Carolina PAC for CALEA accreditation. Warren also coordinates the North Carolina Peace Officers Memorial Day (POMD) ceremony for the Attorney General's Office. The 2013 North Carolina Peace Officers Memorial Day was held in Fayetteville.

BUDGET REPORT

The North Carolina Justice Academy received an authorized budget of $7.0 million in September for the fiscal year 2012-2013, which fortunately allowed for no further reductions of positions. The NC E-Procurement upgrade went live in July. The Academy's purchasing staff was able to close out all open transactions in the old system by the end of September. Also upgrades to Counterpoint were implemented. Bids were accepted for repairs to the roof of the cafeteria building in Edneyville and a replacement roof will be submitted as a renovation project at a later date. The General Assembly approved preliminary design work for a new western crime lab to be located at the Edneyville campus. DOJ must report to the General Assembly in February 2013 the estimated cost for operation the lab for the first five year, preliminary design plans and timeline for completion. Funding for the Lead Removal Project was postponed for this year.

The Academy produced four expansion requests for the year. These four instructor positions were a narcotics investigator, crime scene investigator, a position in the Leadership Center and a traffic crash investigator. The Administrative Assistant I position in our Business Office was transferred to Campus Operations and was re-allocated as a Security Officer position to be hired during the 3rd fiscal quarter. Funds were transferred to put the Lead Removal Project back on schedule. A designer was selected for the Crime Lab project and several meetings were held to provide information for a programming document required by the Legislature to justify a lab facility in Edneyville which was due in February 2013.

During the 3rd quarter of the fiscal year , the Governor's Budget for 2013-2014 was revealed in March. Bills were introduced in the Senate and House to fund the Crime Lab at Edneyville with appropriate staffing. The Governor's budget provided funds for staff but little funds for expansion. Options will continue to be reviewed. Over 20,000 CCH red books sold from December to February due to CCH changes.

The final quarter of the fiscal year, the Academy was able to make several major purchases including carpeting for the second and third floors of C-Dorm, upgrades for two classrooms at the West Campus, plumbing fixture upgrades in B-Dorm, 30 new chairs for the LRC classrooms, new recreation table for the Student Center, 9-1-1 simulation software for Susan Gillis' telecommuntion classes and two new HD cameras for the Video Production Unit. The Lead Removal Project was completed in June. A new pre-exhaust filter change was done to allevatie pressure issue experienced at the Indoor Firing Range in Edneyville and the Academy will look at a quartely maintenance contract during the next fiscal year. Funding for the new capital project of a Crime Lab was not provided in the Legislature.

GRANTS

#2559, Traffic Enforcement

This grant was awarded from the Governor's Highway Safety Program. This grant addressed three major concerns. First, it was necessary to provide recently approved RADAR/LIDAR instruments for classroom training. This grant also addressed the increase in motorcycle ownership as well as an increase in traffic crashes involving motorcycles. This grant also helped in the fight against illicit drug trafficking on the state's highways.

#2494, Child Abuse Investigations Trainer

This grant was the second year funding of a grant that was awarded in 2009 by the Governor's Crime Commission. This grant hired a temporary instructor to provide courses in the area of investigating child abuse. Specific emphasis in the course work dealt with assisting in conducting a forensic investigation using specialized cameras to document suspected incidents of child abuse. Additionally, the grant provided resource CDs to local law enforcement to assist them in conducting child abuse investigations.

#2500, Multidisciplinary Sex Crime Training

This grant was the first year funding of a grant that was awarded in 2011 by the Governor's Crime Commission. This grant hired a temporary instructor to provide courses in the area of investigating sex crimes. Investigating this type of crime requires specialized training and sensitivity to the crime victim. The temporary instructor was a former sex crimes investigator for the Kansas City Police Department and brought her experience in sex crime investigations along with a desire for improved investigative procedures.

#2512, Enhance Investigative Training

This grant was a special award from the Governor's Crime Commission to fund specialized sexual assault investigation training in additional locations throughout the state of North Carolina. Contract instructors who are subject matter experts in the field of criminal sexuality taught.
